

DIPHTHERIA REPORTED; CLINICS ANNOUNCED

Immunization clinics against diphtheria have been planned for Elba, Enterprise and several rural communities in Coffee County due to the occurrence of one case in the City of Enterprise and four in the rural area within the past three weeks.

The Enterprise case of laryngeal diphtheria has recovered following an operation which required inserting a tube in the windpipe. However, there had been widespread contact before these cases were reported, said Dr. G. L. Weidner, county health officer, who strongly urges that all children between the ages of six months and seven years be protected against this contagion.

Clinics will be held in the Enterprise health office every Friday afternoon from two to four o'clock and in the Elba health office every Saturday morning from 11 to 12.

Three cases were reported from Leverette community. Clinics are being scheduled for Leverette, Macedonia, Ino, Goodman, Bradshaw and Damascus.

If other communities wish clinics, they are advised to make application to the County Health Department.

"In the preparation for which you won a victory," said General Alexander, "in a communication to Major General Arthur R. Wilson, commanding general of PBS, 'above everything else,' continued General Alexander's message, 'the exploitation of this victory depends upon the development and repair of ports, railways, pipelines, roads, signal lines and other means of insuring that the pursuit is uncheckered and to our advancing troops the flow of supplies is maintained.'"

VICTORY FIREWORKS—Alabama, this Fourth of July Week, was buying a special kind of fireworks to celebrate the nation's birthday—it was war bonds. From far and wide over the state came reports of communities that went over the top in the Fifth War Loan Drive as they backed the Invasion.

State Drives Hard To Go Over The Top

County Organizations Report Heavy Sale Of
'Victory Fireworks'

Alabama drove with all its might this Fourth of July Week to go over the top in the Fifth War Loan Drive. County organizations everywhere reported heavy sales of 5 bonds and enthusiastic purchases of other denominations.

State War Finance Committee first brave Fourth of July, has been so significant to Americans as this Fourth of July.

"Let us invest this year in Victory Fireworks. Let us put our money into bonds that will mean shells, bombs, planes, guns and ships that will push the enemy back and back and back."

"Unless we do our part here, the Invasion will fail, the enemy will win in the end, and our men will have died for a lost cause."

"It is hard for many of us to translate the news dispatches from 'over there' into our everyday way of living. Those who have lost sons, fathers, brothers and friends know the cost of victory."

"Alabama will win a victory in the Fifth War Loan, but we must win it now."

"Let every county, every community, buy more than before. Buy more than the enemy. Let us back the Invasion. Let us buy fireworks that will blow the enemy off the map this American Independence Week, 1944."

No Fourth of July, since that

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

U. S. Navy Blasts Japan's Fleet
But Enemy Refuses Showdown;
Allies Push Forward in Europe

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When headlines are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Pacific—Circle indicates scene of big naval battle in which U. S. fleet clashed with strong Japanese force.

EUROPE:

Last Stand

As U. S. Doughboys closed on the big French port of Cherbourg at the tip of the Cotentin peninsula about 75 miles from Britain, desperate German defenders acting on Field Marshal von Rundstedt's orders to resist to the last man, put up a bloody last-ditch fight, demolishing the harbor facilities to prevent their immediate use when the town fell.
As the Yanks pressed in on Cherbourg, other Allied forces along the
to probe deeper inland, meeting up with stiff Nazi counterattacks designed to curtail their advances.
Fleets of Allied bombers roared over the battle area, hitting at Nazi strong points and aiming at enemy reinforcements moving up to the front. Ramps in the Calais region from which the Germans were launching their rocket bombs for attacks against southern England and London, remained under heavy fire of Allied aircraft.

Other Fronts

On other European fronts, the Russians reportedly launched a large-scale offensive against the Germans' big bulge on the north end of the 1,200-mile eastern battle line, while Allied troops chased the Nazis up the Italian peninsula to prepared positions guarding the northern plains.

Using strong tank and infantry forces, the Reds reportedly struck at German forces massed to retain the Nazis' last great foothold on Russian territory, even while they were continuing their drive through the torturing Finland from the southwest and east. Not only would the direction of the new big offensive point Red armies toward Warsaw and Berlin, but it would also serve to whittle down a potential Nazi springboard for an encirclement attack against Russian forces to the south.
In Italy, Allied forces moved ahead after eliminating pockets of stubborn German rear-guarding, putting up a desperate delaying action to permit the bulk of the Nazi forces to retire behind the new defense line.

BILL OF RIGHTS:

For GIs

Estimated to cost from 3 to 6 billion dollars, congress passed and the President signed the so-called "bill of rights" for vets of World War II, designed to aid the hardships suffered by soldiers of World War I upon their demobilization.
Under the "bill of rights," vets will be entitled to an unemployment compensation of $20 a week for 52 weeks during the first two years after the war, if unable to find suitable work. Also available will be at least one year of schooling for vets whose education was interrupted during the war, with the government providing $500 for tuition and $50 monthly for subsistence, plus $25 for dependents.
For vets seeking to buy or repair farms or homes or establish small businesses, the government will guarantee 50 per cent of the loan up to a maximum of $2,000, with interest at 4 per cent and the amount repayable in 20 years. The Veterans Administration also authorized to provide hospital facilities for the care of returning servicemen.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

P.O.W. STRIKE: German war prisoners have refused to work in beet fields near Scotts Bluff, Neb., because the pay basis has been changed. Formerly they received 80 cents a day flat rate. This has been changed to a piece work rate of 80 cents for each quarter acre thinned. Lieut. Col. Clyde Dempster said disciplinary action would be taken if the men continued on strike.

EMPLOYMENT: A decline of 100,000 workers per month in war plants has been the trend since the beginning of the year, the department of commerce reports. While in sections shortages of manpower exist, the overall picture of the nation is a downward movement in factory employment, the report went on to say, as new jobs, employment will remain the same.

CONGRESS:

Spends Less

For the first time since the war broke out, congressional appropriations will fall below the 100 billion dollar mark for the fiscal year starting July 1.
Because of the completion of capital outlays and the large stockpile of war materials, Chairman Cannon (Mo.) of the house appropriations committee estimated provision of 96 billion dollars for the impending 12 months, including approximately 3 1/2 billion dollars for such items as financing the national debt.

Following Pearl Harbor, congress appropriated 147 billion dollars, and then supplied 114 billion dollars for the next year. Declaring congressional appropriations
"definitely have passed the hump," Chairman Cannon said they would continue on the down-grade, regardless of war developments.

AGRICULTURE:

Release Trucks

To help in the harvest of this year's big wheat crop, surplus used army trucks will be made available to farmers and haulers through the medium of county AAA offices.
Because of the limited supply of trucks, however, only a small percentage in proportion to actual demand will be available, and the vehicles will be allotted only on the basis of the most critical need.
After certification of an application by the AAA, dealers will then purchase the trucks from the U. S. treasury's regional procurement office at an appraised price, and sell to the farmer or hauler at or below OPA ceilings.

SURPLUS GOODS:

Overseas Disposal

Treated as a valuable national asset, U. S. surplus goods overseas should be disposed of in foreign countries with the aim of realizing the highest possible profit, a business advisory committee established by the government said.
Although keeping one eye cocked on postwar trade, the committee advocated the disposal of surplus industrial equipment, observing that the sooner the devastated countries can be restored to production, the sooner they will cease to be candidates for relief.

In cases of low bids for surplus materials, sales might be made on the condition that the foreign purchasers will buy other new equipment from this country, the committee counseled.

RECONVERSION:

Conflicting Plans

The question of whether policy on the reconversion of industry from a war to a peacetime basis should allow certain manufacturers to resume civilian output while competitors are still engaged in war work, reportedly has divided the War Production board into two camps, with
W. P. B. Chairman
Donald Nelson
favoring the procedure and W. P. B.
Charles Wilson opposing it.

The new big offensive point Red armies toward Warsaw and
Berlin, but it would also serve to
against Russian forces to the south.
In Italy, Allied forces moved
stubborn German rear-guarding, put-
ting up a desperate delaying action
line.

FOOD:

Postwar Stocks

In order to avoid the glut of 1919, the government's surplus stocks of foods will be released through normal trade channels after the war.
M. Lee Marshall, War Food administration director of distribution, revealed.
Although original vendors would be given the opportunity to repur-chase food stocks, WFA will only accept fair bids and sell in areas where particular types of commodities are scarce, Marshall said.
With the termination of the war in Europe and the shipments of food overseas, there will be no need for the stockpiling of commodities, Marshall said. Coupled with military reserves, present food stocks should provide a large part of the needs of liberated people, who will have to eat while being rehabilitated.

PATENTS

"Distinct patent rights should not be granted for the sole purpose of handicapping future inventors whose discoveries would not otherwise infringe the complete patent," ruled the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia in a case involving a canning company.
A concurring judge stated that the decision will "require considerable reexamination—if not readjustment of patent office practices and procedures, especially with respect to subcombination claims."

Cloths for wiping and polishing furniture will not cause fires and will eliminate odors if they are kept in tin cans.

Cooked vegetables may be reheated with steam by placing them in a wire
strainer over a pot or pan of boiling water.

Golden Text—Thou hast wholly fol-

Lesson for July 9

LESSON TEXT — Joshua 14:9-14;
Jude 1:20, 21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou hast wholly followed the Lord.—Joshua 14:9.

Companions in battle usually means friends and comrades for life. Joshua, of whom we studied last week, had such a friend in Caleb. Together they had faced the crises of life.

Caleb is one of the characters about whom the Bible does not say much, but in every case the word is one revealing high and noble character. Consider such passages as Numbers 13:6, 20: 14:7, 24, 30; 26:65, as well as our lesson for today.

The background for our study is the story of Caleb's courageous stand with Joshua when the spies returned from their visit to Canaan, which is related in Numbers 13.
Note first of all Caleb's attitude.

I. Perfect Obedience (Josh. 14: 6-8).
"I wholly followed the Lord my God." Such a testimony from a man like Caleb is no idle boast, no effort to parade his faith and piety before others. In saying it he was repeating what God and Moses had both said about him. In his heart he knew it to be true.

It is God's will for each of His children that they should come to such a place of simple trust and complete obedience that in every circumstance of life they need know only one thing—God's will, and then in faith to do it. It is a life beautiful in its transparency, simplicity and powerful in the strength of God Himself.

Such also are the promises of God which keep the heart singing in our hours of trial and sorrow, which brighten up the dark ways, which strengthen the heart of His children.
Learn God's promises, cherish them, and in your heart expect God to fulfill them.

II. Preserved Strength (vs. 10, 11).
"The Lord hath kept me alive . . . and I am . . . strong." Here was a man kept of God, in full vigor in his eighty-fourth year, "like a rock in a changed sea, like a snow-capped peak in a change of cloud and storm and sun" (Meyer). No wonder that he was able to tell his fathers till to call "the longevity of the antediluvians"; but even that fact alone are backing them up. Fortunately, Americans can buy them for other purposes too. They can—

Buy War Bonds to build an educational fund for a child or a grandchild

Buy War Bonds to help pay off a mortgage on a home

Buy War Bonds for a down-payment on a new home after the war

Buy War Bonds as a nest egg just "in case"

Buy War Bonds to accumulate a fund with which to start a small business after the war

Buy War Bonds for postwar home remodeling

Buy War Bonds as a fund for travel—to visit, after the war, some of the places where kin are fighting

Buy War Bonds as an old-age and retirement fund

Buy War Bonds for anything which will require money after the war

U. S. Navy Blasts Japan's Fleet
But Enemy Refuses Showdown;
Allies Push Forward in Europe

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Editor's Note: The columns are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of the newspaper.

Pacific—Circle indicates scene of big naval battle in which U. S. fleet clashed with strong Jap forces.

big French port of Cherbourg at the
tip of the Cotentin peninsula about 75 miles from Britain, desperate
German defenders acting on Field Marshal von Rundstedt's orders to
immediate use when the town fell.

As the Yanks pressed in on Cher-
with stiff Nazi counterattacks designed to curtail their advances.

over the battle area, hitting at New
front. Rains in the Calais region from which the Germans were
tacks against southern England and
of Allied aircraft.

Germans' big bulge on the north and
of the 1,200-mile eastern battle line,
while Allied troops chased the Nazis
up the Italian peninsula to prepared
plains.

Using strong tank and infantry
the Nazis' last great foothold on Russian territory, even while they were continuing their drive through tiny, tortured Poland from the southwest
and east. Not only would the direction of the new big offensive point
Berlin, but it also would serve to materialize a potential Nazi plan
against Russian forces to the south.

stubborn German rear-guard, putting up a desperate delaying action to retire the bulk of the Nazi forces to permit the new defense line.

Estimated to cost from 3 to 6 bil-
President signed the so-called "bill
of rights" for vets of World War II, designed to avoid the hardships suf-
upon their demobilization.

weeks during the first two years after the war, if unable to find suit-
whose education was interrupted by the war, with the government providing $500 for tuition and $50
dependents.

For vets seeking to buy or repair
businesses, the government will
repayable in 20 years. The veterans' administration also is authorized to spend one-half billion to provide hospital facilities for the care of returning servicemen.

P.O.W. STRIKE:

German war
prisoners have refused to work in beet fields near Scots Bluff, Neb., because their pay basis has been changed. Formerly they received
cleared. Lieut. Col. Clyde Dempster
taken if the men continued on strike.

EMPLOYMENT:

A decline of 100,000 workers per month in July
beginning of the year, the department of commerce reports. Many
in sections shortages of manpower
factory employment, the report went on. In nonwar jobs, employment will remain the same.

CONGRESS:

broke out, congressional appropriations will fall below the 100 billion dollar mark for the fiscal year
starting July 1.

Because of the completion of cap-
of war materials, Chairman Cannon (R., Mo.) of the house appropriations committee estimated provision of 88
billion dollars for the impending 12
months, including approximately
financing the national debt.

gress appropriated 147 billion dollars, and then supplied 114 billion dollars for the next year. Declaring congressional appropriations
"definitely have passed the hump,"
gardless of war developments.

AGRICULTURE:

medium of county AAA offices.

centage in proportion to actual demand will be available, and the trucks will be allotted only on the basis of the most critical need.

Adopt the application of an application by the AAA, dealers will then
purchase the trucks from the U. S. treasury's regional procurement of-
OPA ceilings.

the highest possible profit, a new advisory committee established by the government said.

on postwar trade, the committee advised the disposal of surplus industrial equipment, observing that the sooner the devastated countries can be restored to production, the sooner they will cease to be candidates for relief.

chasers will buy other new equipment from this country, the committee concluded.

RECONVERSION:

should allow certain manufacturers to resume civilian output while competitors are still engaged in war work, reportedly has divided the War Production board into two camps, with
W. P. B. Chairman
favoring the procedure and W. P. B.
Vice-Chairman
Charles Wilson
opposing it.

In recently relaxing restrictions on use of materials for civilian production in areas with labor surpluses, Nelson declared that the withholding of civilian production until all companies might return to such work would result in stagnation of industry for a prolonged period.

On the other hand, Wilson reportedly contends that manufacturers allowed to resume civilian production before others would enjoy a jump in the market on war contractors, who would virtually be penalized for their efficiency in fulfilling government orders.

WHISKY:

May Ban Corn

Although distillers' facilities have been released from the production of industrial alcohol for war purposes during August, the prospect arose that they would be unable to use corn in the manufacture of whisky during the month because of the War Food administration's opposition in view of the tight feed situation.

Because of this opposition, distillers may be compelled to use wheat, rye and possibly Caribbean molasses, it was reported, with restrictions even on wheat.

With farmers already having trunked in close to 60,000,000 bushels of corn to the government for processing uses despite the tight feed situation existing, the WFA promised that none of the grain would be diverted to alcohol.

preventing future inventors whose
the U. S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia in a case involving a conning company.

A conning judge stated that the
—of patent office practices and resolutions, especially with respect to subcombination claims."

CANAAN

LESSON TEXT—Joshua 14:9-14; Judea 1:20, 21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou hast wholly followed the Lord—Joshua 14:9.

Companions in battle usually
last week, had such a friend in
crises of life.

Caleb is one of the characters
about whom the Bible does not say
as Numbers 13:6, 30; 14:7, 24, 30; 26:6, as well as our lesson for
today.

The background for our study is
stand with Joshua when the spies re-
turned from their visit to Canaan,
which is related in Numbers 13.
Note first of all Caleb's
I. Perfect Obedience (Josh. 14: 6-8).

"I wholly followed the Lord my God." Such a testimony of man is
like Caleb is no idle boast, no effort
others. In saying it he was repeating
what God and Moses had both said
to be true.

know only one thing—God's will, and then in faith to go and do it. It is a life beautiful in its transparent simplicity and power in the strength of God Himself.

II. Promised Inheritance (v. 9).
"Surely the land wherein thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance." Such was the promise of God through Moses. Forty-five long years had elapsed, but down through this period of wilderness wanderings and the conflict in robbing Canaan the promise had lived in Caleb's heart. He knew it would be fulfilled, and he waited serenely for God's time.

Such also are the promises of God
fight up the dark ways, which strengthen the heart of His children.
in your heart, expect God to fulfill them.

III. Preserved Strength (vv. 10, 11).
"The Lord hath kept me alive . . .
his eighty-fifth year, "like a rock in a chancel sea, like a snow-drift, like a cedar in a change of cloud
doubt there was here what our forefathers liked to call "the longevity
of the antediluvians"; but even apart from that, let us recognize that life and strength come from God, and that those who walk with Him in holy living may count on Him for the renewed strength of Psalm 103:5.

An incidental but extremely important lesson we should learn is that God has no age deadline. The church has no such age deadline.
Him and against His faithful servants by "shelving them" for youthfulness and vigor. The church has encouraged and used them. The writer of these lines is a young man, but he would speak here a word of loving admonition regarding his honored brethren who have gone on before to bear the brunt of the battle.

IV. Powerful Assurance (vv. 12-15; Jude 1:20-21).
"If . . . the Lord will be with me, then I shall be able." Caleb asked for no easy task. He was ready to go up against the giants of Hebron.
Read Deuteronomy 31:1, and you will find that there were men in those days who needed thirteen-foot beds. But Caleb was not afraid. He counted not on his own strength, but on the power of God.

It is significant that, while the other sections of Canaan were only partially conquered, Caleb brought his formidable adversaries entirely under control, so that "the land had rest from war" (v. 15). The verses above are 13 feet high. Caleb was as good as his word. He was a doughty, God-fearing 85-year-old, and he was to meet them in the shameful unbelief and failure of Israel.

The spiritual application to our day is evident and appropriate.
There are giants in the land. Corruption—social and individual—raises its brazen head. Drunkenness and vice rear at us with the impending suggestion that we cannot control them.

There are giants "within us"— greed, selfishness, low character, lust, passion, cruelty" (Blackie).
Are we to do nothing about them?
If we are to meet them in the strength of the flesh, we might as well do nothing. But in the power of God, we are like Caleb—able. In His name we may do something about Him! For His glory.

cause fires and will elimi-
in tin cans.

boiling water.
